EXPERIENCE FORCHHEIM'S HISTORY

Forchheim, one of the oldest cities in Franconia, has preserved its medieval to Baroque appearance with its many half-timbered houses and fortress. Anyone who wanders along the cobblestone streets on the trail of the old kings can enjoy a close experience of the city's history, which goes back more than 1,200 years.

Archaeological excavations show that the Regnitz Valley, which surrounds Forchheim, was inhabited as long ago as prehistoric times. In the 7th century, the Franks established a small settlement here. Thanks to its transport-favourable location, it soon developed into an important centre of long-distance trade. The Königspfalz palace mentioned in historical writings was built during the reign of the Carolingian kings, but no trace of it has ever been found in the city.

In the 16th century, Forchheim developed into a powerful fortress town. Four bastions still stand as a reminder of this chapter in the city's history.

The Rathaus or Town Hall ensemble is a masterpiece of half-timbered construction and a trademark of the city. The famous Kaiserpfalz palace, which is actually a bishop's castle, and St. Martin's church with its Baroque high altar, have characterised the city centre for centuries.

Forchheim's tour guides can take you along on various tours for a unique journey through time in the historical Old Town, the casemates or up to the Kellerwald to visit the tradition-steeped beer cellars. Immerse yourself in Forchheim's impressive history and experience Franconian tradition between the past and the future!

MILESTONES IN THE CITY'S HISTORY

In the Middle Ages, the eyes of the mighty were aimed particularly at Forchheim, for three kings were once elected here. Over the centuries, the city has developed from a Frankish royal court into one of the most important tourist centres in the Nuremberg metropolitan region. If you would like to create your own impression of Forchheim's historic past, here is a tip: the Porta Vorchheimensis, located in the pedestrian zone, gives an impressive, entertaining account of the city's history in 12 pictures. Naturally, our tour guides can tell you more about the venerable past of this Royal City.

around 1200

Forchheim is presumably granted town privileges in the 13th century. The oldest city seal dates to 1310 and shows a coat of arms featuring two trout. This is a "false-canting" coat of arms.

1450

Pope Pius II praises the city's bread. Forchheim is also known for its beer and good flour.

1632

Several times during the Thirty Years' War (1616-1648), the Swedes stand at the gates of Forchheim – without success, for the city is not taken.

1802

The ecclesiastical principalities are dissolved and incorporated into secular principalities. The Electorate of Bavaria is granted the Prince-Bishopric of Bamberg, including Forchheim Fortress, whose designation as fortress was lifted in 1838.

1845

The Ludwig-Danube-Main Canal and one of Germany's earliest railway lines, which ran between Nuremberg and Bamberg, introduce new transportation routes.

THE OLD TOWN

If you want to form an impression of Franconia, just take a stroll through the Old Town centre of Forchheim with all your senses alert. The typically Franconian half-timbering tucks itself away in corners and lanes, but proudly asserts itself on squares and streets. The city's history is reflected in the diversity of buildings from past centuries. In the pedestrian zone, Franconian bakers and butchers, small shops with an intimate atmosphere and speciality stores offer everything your heart desires. And for those who need a break during or after their shopping expedition, there are not only many restaurants with typically Franconian food and Forchheim beer, but also eateries featuring international cuisine.

01 Forchheim's oldest building dates to 1341 and stands on Hornschuchallee. 02 Extensive remains of the city wall can be seen in the Stadtpark. 03 A view of the fortifications from 1635 (Source: Municipal Archive).

THE THREE OLDEST BUILDINGS IN FORCHHEIM ARE FROM THE 14th CENTURY.

FORTIFICATIONS

The fortifications of the Prince-Bishopric were built in the old Italian style in 1552 after the capture of Forchheim in the Second Margrave War and proved their worth in the Thirty Years' War. The fortress was not completed until the 18th century, by which time more bastions built on the French model were completed. The inclined ramparts were originally around 10 to 14 metres high. The north and northwest sides of the fortress are well-preserved. The Saltorturm tower beside the Kaiserpfalz dates to the 14th century and was thus part of the medieval fortifications.

KAMMERERS MÜHLE

Kammerers Mühle stands on Wiesentstraße, which runs parallel to the arm of the river. This mill is a building from the Baroque period. The richly ornamented carvings in the framing timbers on the upper levels are well-preserved. Over the course of time, the mill has leaned towards the river, but has remained stable until today – like the Leaning Tower of Pisa.

RATHAUSPLATZ

The large square in front of the Town Hall is one of the most beautiful in all of Franconia. It is dominated by the west wing of the imposing Town Hall. The Gothic main building was erected in 1402; the Magistrates' Hall to the west was built in the Renaissance style in 1535. The picturesque half-timbered façade and the slender bell tower have been preserved. A closer look at the wood carvings in the timberwork of the front building, which were created by Forchheim carpenter Hans Ruhalm, reveals them to depict cryptic allegories – ironic, full of humour and innuendo. For instance, in one scene a bent-over figure uses both

LITTLE VENICE/CORVES

The area between the Spitalkirche and the bridge on Vogelstraße is known as “Little Venice”. This 800-metre stretch is home to picturesque 16th-century buildings that stand directly adjacent to the river. Many of the balconies rest on 300-year-old piles that are anchored to the bottom of the Wiesent. The plane-tiled roofs of the corves form a row along the riverbank. They are used to house the well-fed carp that end up on the counter of the neighbouring delicatessen.

KAISERPFALZ

To be precise, the “imperial palace” is actually a bishop’s castle built by the order of Prince-Bishop Lambert from Brunn around 1380. Recent research has shown that the bishop’s castle is not located on the remains of the royal palace. The location of the historical palace is still unknown. This castle has become an emblem of Forchheim. It is home to the Pfalzmuseum, which comprises four special museums, one of which is in the neighbouring casemate. Concerts, markets, special exhibitions and theatre performances regularly take place here as well.

GUIDED TOURS

It is important to us that you should have the most authentic, vivid experience possible of Forchheim and its history.

This is why we offer visitors a diverse programme of guided tours on a wide variety of topics. Ranging from a classic city tour, to a walk with our quaint Night Watchman, to a tour of Forchheim Fortress that we call “Impregnable Forchheim”, there is something for everyone.

The programme is complemented with seasonal guided tours, for instance the tour of the Anna-fest, an excursion to the Forchheim nativity scenes at Christmastime, or a tour to the magnificently decorated Osterbrunnen or Easter fountains of Franconian Switzerland.

EASTER

The custom of decorating fountains for Easter is a long-held tradition in Franconian Switzerland. Months in advance, people start blowing out, painting and preparing eggs. Traditionally, volunteers decorate the fountains of many towns with garlands of spruce and birch on Easter Saturday. The egg is a symbol of the mystery of life. The fountains and springs wear their colourful splendour for around two weeks. This tradition is meant to draw our attention to water and remind us that it is not an inexhaustible resource. In Forchheim, the decorated fountains are accompanied by a programme featuring an Easter-egg market, family tours and children's activities.

TRADITIONAL EVENTS

In Forchheim, the festival year is replete with events, markets and concerts. In every season, you will have the possibility to immerse yourself in Franconian customs and traditions as well as those of other cultures. The seasonal opening of the beer cellars, the craft fair in the Kaiserpfalz, the ZirkArt acrobatic festival and Africa Culture Days are just a few examples. We would like to introduce you to Forchheim's highlights.

ANNAFEST

The Annafest has several origins, some of which extend far into the past. As long ago as the 16th century, the shady Kellerwald or cellar forest, now the location of the festival grounds, served as a rest area for pilgrims who had come to honour St. Anne, the mother of the Virgin. When the main shooting party of the royally privileged marksmen's society took place annually on 26 July, the feast day of St. Anne, the event developed into the festival now known as the Annafest. Measuring around 20,000 m<sup>2</sup>, the Kellerwald offers enough space to accommodate up to 500,000 guests over the 11-day festivities. Visitors celebrate at more than 20 beer cellars, and you can enjoy cool beer from about 15 Franconian breweries. There are also Franconian and international specialities on offer, as well as many carnival rides and live music ranging from the traditional to the modern. The beer cellars are open daily from 10:00 a.m. until 11:30 p.m. The festival starts at 1:00 p.m.

01 At Easter, the fountain on the Rathaus square is festively decorated. 02 At the opening of the Annafest, the mayor himself pitches in. 03 The Rathaus square becomes a magical Christmas world.

CHRISTMAS

At Christmastime, the unique half-timbered ensemble of the Forchheim Rathaus is transformed into the world's most beautiful Advent calendar. Surrounded by around 25 small stalls, you can enjoy mulled wine and gingerbread or Franconian bratwurst in a cosy, historical setting. Children will be excited by horse-drawn carriage rides, the nostalgic carousel, the model railway exhibition and the living Nativity scene. In the evenings, there are daily live performances by bands and singers who spread a wonderful Christmas mood. At 6:30 p.m., the Forchheim Christmas Angel opens one window of the Advent calendar and solemnly recites the prologue. Every evening, a winner in the Christmas lottery is drawn. This lucky person can look forward to valuable prizes, including a brand-new car to be raffled on Christmas Eve. The Night Watchman closes the evening with an entertaining poem, and the children receive small presents from the Christmas Angel.

PFALZMUSEUM

The so-called Kaiserpfalz or imperial palace stands at the heart of the historical Old Town. This Prince- Bishop's Castle was built by Bishop Lambert von Brunn of Bamberg in the late 14th century.

» THE PFALZMUSEUM FEATURES THE OLDEST PRESERVED WALL PAINTINGS IN FRANCONIA.

In this unique monument of national significance, you can view precious, late-Gothic wall paintings and the Pfalzmuseum, which comprises three specialised museums:

Upper Franconian Museum of Archaeology, City Museum and Museum of Traditional Costume.

Next door, in the 16th-century casemate, you will have a close experience of fortress history in the Rote Mauer museum. Children and adults alike will learn about history and cultural history in the museum's education programmes. Special temporary exhibitions, events and markets, such as the craft fair and Africa Culture Days, round out the programme.

FOR KIDS

Forchheim is a city for big and small discoverers. Along with the Königsbad aquatic park, the cinema, great playgrounds, indoor soccer, bowling, mini and adventure golf and many other sports and leisure activities for any weather, there is also a children's tour through the Old Town. Living history in a casual atmosphere, as well as the odd surprise, are guaranteed. A special highlight: a visit to the battlements of the old fortress.

Anyone who would rather learn about Forchheim on their own can set out with the children's city guide and solve puzzles. This flyer and other information are available at the Tourist Information Centre.

EXPERIENCE THE DELIGHTS OF FORCHHEIM

Forchheim is located in the Upper Franconian culinary region, right among the world's greatest number of bakers, confectioneries, butcher's shops and breweries. With three world records in the realm of gastronomy, it is no wonder that the Royal City has been recognised as a Bavarian centre of epicurean delights since 2018.

Even in earlier times, Forchheim was known for its good beer and bread – and this is still the case today. Of the 38 original beer outlets, four family-run breweries still call Forchheim home. Altogether, they brew around 40 different types of high-quality beer. However, epicures sample beer not only in the historical Old Town, but in Forchheim's idyllic Kellerwald as well. Over an area of 20,000 m<sup>2</sup>, a selection of 23 traditional beer cellars are open. Naturally, apart from local beers, these cellars offer fine Franconian dishes ranging from the Kellerplatte or cellar platter to the "Schäuferla", which is meat from a pig's shoulder.

THE KELLERWALD

With 23 beer cellars distributed over an area of 20,000 m<sup>2</sup>, Forchheim's Kellerwald is described as the world's largest beer garden for good reason.

For more than 400 years, an underground labyrinth comprising kilometres of passageways has served as a place to age and store "barley juice". With modern brewing techniques, the rock-cut cellars have lost their original significance as beer storage. Nowadays, the 20-odd cellars are no longer used to age the beer, but have become beer outlets. It was once recommended that guests drink the beer in the same place it had been stored. Tables and benches were set up in the Kellerwald, and the cellar pubs were created.

IN THE CELLARS, THE BEER IS STORED AT A CONSTANT TEMPERATURE OF 6-10° C.

Most of the time, a pub was set up above the cellar, which led to the expression "going on the cellar". Today, these cellars offer Franconian delicacies and beers year-round from breweries in Forchheim and other regions. Cellar culture achieves its high point at the annual Annafest.

THE FIRST UPPER FRANCONIAN BEER QUEEN WAS CROWNED IN FORCHHEIM IN 2005.

THE BEER QUEEN

Since 2005, the City of Forchheim has elected its own Beer Queen every two years. She represents local breweries and the city at various events and trade fairs. Naturally, these include the opening of the beer-cellar season and the Annafest.

GASTRONOMIC EVENTS

The Franconian culinary year is marked by many events for epicures. Starting with the annual seasonal opening of the beer cellars in April, to the traditional Wine Festival on the Rathaus square, to the Festival of Delights and the renowned Annafest, there is something for everyone.

THE STADTPARK

Forchheim's Stadtpark is an idyll in the middle of the city; it has a magical attraction not only for walkers and picnickers, but stirs the hearts of botanists as well. The 100-year history of the park, which was designed in 1920 by senior horticulturalist Hugo Post, can be felt with every step. Post's ideas brought a generous touch of the exotic to the Franconian Royal City that continues to characterise our green lung. Its splendid trees, lush shrubbery and diverse plants invite locals and visitors alike to relax, take a stroll, breathe freely and discover.

FRANCONIAN SWITZERLAND

As the northern part of the Franconian Jura, Franconian Switzerland covers the districts of Bamberg, Bayreuth and Forchheim. The area is also called “the land of castles, caves and delights” and offers nature lovers, hikers, motorcyclists and those seeking to relax a wide selection: canoeing on the Wiesent, tours in the many climbing areas, picturesque cycling and hiking trails and much more.

Pottenstein, Muggendorf, Waischenfeld and the natural landscapes surrounding these towns are among the most popular excursion destinations.

THE MOST STRIKING OF THE MANY MOUNTAINS IN FRANCONIAN SWITZERLAND IS THE EHRENBÜRG, POPULARLY KNOWN AS THE “WALBERLA”.

WELCOME TO FORCHHEIM

Dive into the Royal City's more than 1,200 years of history and experience true Franconian delights.

A good beer can be brewed only when experience, artisanship and the finest ingredients come together. The same can be said of Forchheim: Franconian tradition, a lively culture, international gastronomy and proximity to nature are our secret recipe for a city that simply must be enjoyed.

Forchheim is wonderfully easy to discover on foot. Let yourself drift along and get a close sense of our tradition-steeped history, whether you are in the Kellerwald or the historical Old Town. We wish you an unforgettable visit and great experiences.
